Majd Zaher is a Lebanese singer and songwriter who has taken the Arabic pop music world by storm. With his soulful vocals, captivating lyrics, and infectious energy, he has quickly become one of the most popular and respected artists in the region.

Zaher was born in Beirut, Lebanon, in 1995. He began singing at a young age, and by the time he was a teenager, he was performing at local events and festivals. In 2016, he released his debut single, "Habibi," which quickly became a hit in Lebanon and the surrounding region.

Zaher's music is a blend of traditional Arabic pop with modern influences. His songs are often about love, loss, and heartbreak, and they are known for their catchy melodies and relatable lyrics. Zaher has a powerful voice that can soar to great heights, and he uses it to convey a wide range of emotions in his songs.

In addition to his singing career, Zaher is also a talented songwriter. He has written songs for some of the biggest names in Arabic pop music, including Elissa, Nancy Ajram, and Wael Kfoury. Zaher's songwriting skills are evident in his own music, which is always well-crafted and emotionally resonant.

Zaher has released two studio albums, "Majd" (2018) and "Habibi" (2020). Both albums were commercial successes, and they helped to solidify Zaher's status as one of the leading artists in Arabic pop music.

Zaher has won numerous awards for his music, including the Murex d'Or Award for Best Male Arabic Singer in 2019. He has also been nominated for several international awards, including the Grammy Award for Best World Music Album.

Zaher is a rising star in the Arabic pop music world, and he is sure to continue to make a big impact on the industry in the years to come. With his soulful vocals, captivating lyrics, and infectious energy, he is one of the most exciting and talented artists in the region.
